News Release

Qorvo Announces Chief Financial Officer Transition

Vice President of Treasury named interim CFO

Greensboro, N.C. – April 5, 2022 – Qorvo, Inc. (NASDAQ: QRVO) today announced that Chief Financial Officer Mark Murphy is leaving the Company effective April 18, 2022. Mr. Murphy was appointed Qorvo's CFO in June 2016 and is departing to join Micron Technology, Inc. as its CFO.

Qorvo has initiated a comprehensive search for a new CFO. Qorvo's Vice President of Treasury, Grant Brown, has been named interim CFO through the transition period.

"On behalf of the Board of Directors and Qorvo's management team, we thank Mark for his many contributions to Qorvo," said Bob Bruggeworth, CEO of Qorvo. "Qorvo has built a high-performing finance team under Mark that has been critical to executing our strategic priorities.

"Grant has been with Qorvo for many years and has been a key part of our disciplined growth, leading various functions in our finance team," Bruggeworth continued. "He has extensive knowledge of our business and is uniquely positioned to support Qorvo during this period as we deliver on our financial and strategic initiatives."

The company's guidance for its fiscal 2022 fourth quarter, provided February 2, remains unchanged.

This press release includes "forward-looking statements" within the meaning of the safe harbor provisions of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. These forward-looking statements include, but are not limited to, statements about our plans, objectives, representations and contentions, and are not historical facts and typically are identified by use of terms such as "may," "will," "should," "could," "expect," "plan," "anticipate," "believe," "estimate," "predict," "potential," "continue" and similar words, although some forward-looking statements are expressed differently. You should be aware that the forward-looking statements included herein represent management's current judgment and expectations, but our actual results, events and performance could differ materially from those expressed or implied by forward-looking statements. We do not intend to update any of these forward-looking statements or publicly announce the results of any revisions to these forward-looking statements, other than as is required under U.S. federal securities laws. Our business is subject to numerous risks and uncertainties, including those relating to fluctuations in our operating results; our substantial dependence on developing new products and achieving design wins; our dependence on several large customers for a substantial portion of our revenue; the COVID-19 pandemic materially and adversely affecting our financial condition and results of operations; a loss of revenue if defense and aerospace contracts are canceled or delayed; our dependence on third parties; risks related to sales through distributors; risks associated with the operation of our manufacturing facilities; business disruptions; poor manufacturing yields; increased inventory risks and costs due to timing of customer forecasts; our inability to effectively manage or maintain evolving relationships with platform providers; our ability to continue to innovate in a very competitive industry; underutilization of manufacturing facilities as a result of industry overcapacity; unfavorable changes in interest rates, pricing of certain precious metals, utility rates and foreign currency exchange rates; our acquisitions and other strategic investments failing to achieve financial or strategic objectives; our ability to attract, retain and motivate key employees; warranty claims, product recalls and product liability; changes in our effective tax rate; changes in the favorable tax status of certain of our subsidiaries; enactment of international or domestic tax legislation, or changes in regulatory guidance; risks associated with environmental, health and safety regulations, and climate change; risks from international sales and operations; economic regulation in China; changes in government trade policies, including imposition of tariffs and export restrictions; we may not be able to generate sufficient cash to service all of our debt; restrictions imposed by the agreements governing our debt; our reliance on our intellectual property portfolio; claims of infringement of third-party intellectual property rights; security breaches and other similar disruptions compromising our information; theft, loss or misuse of personal data by or about our employees, customers or third parties; provisions in our governing documents and Delaware law may discourage takeovers and business combinations that our stockholders might consider to be in their best interests; and volatility in the price of our common stock. These and other risks and uncertainties, which are described in more detail in Qorvo's most recent Annual Report on Form 10-K and in other reports and statements filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission, could cause actual results and developments to be materially different from those expressed or implied by any of these forward-looking statements.
